

Facing Forward!

Helping families of young children plan and dream for an Everyday life

---

Do you have an elementary age child with a disability and want to meet with other parents to talk about planning for his/her future?

Facing Forward is a new program to help parents:

- ◇ be excited and confident in “dreaming” about all things possible;
- ◇ utilize natural and community resources to engage their children in a full, rewarding life;
- ◇ plan a path forward for their child.

The group will meet monthly with a facilitator who will help them utilize LifeCourse tools to work through goals as well as identify and understand options and resources that will help their child achieve all they wish to be.

Program Overview:

- ✓ Families with an elementary age child with an Intellectual Disability or Autism
- ✓ Virtual Sessions using Zoom with opportunities to meet in person at times
- ✓ Group session, once a month 6 pm to 7 pm from September to May
- ✓ Materials provided with some work for families in-between meetings
- ✓ Pre-registration required but there is no cost for the program
